

Mum-To-Be Pass

We know that growing a baby is hard work so, if you're twenty weeks pregnant (or more), let us help get you off your feet and into a seat when onboard with a Mum-To-Be Pass. Just fill out this form and take it to a Avanti West Coast Ticket Office with your MAT B1 form to get your Pass. To use it you'll also need a valid ticket and a National Rail photocard, which you can get free of charge from the Ticket Office with a recent Passport photo.

Don't worry, we'll only use these details to issue your pass.

How to use your pass

- If you're worried that you'll be travelling on a very busy train, please see the station staff beforehand. They can help you get onboard at a quiet place.
- If you're onboard without a seat and have your ticket, National Rail Photocard and Mum-To-Be Pass, please speak to a member of staff.
- If a seat isn't available in Standard class, the Train Manager will try to get you a seat in First Class (fancy that).
